Other change ED is requesting approval for the Reading First Impact Study to add incentives for survey respondents, in response to the findings from the incentive experiment conducted during the spring 2005 data collection period. There is no change in burden as a result of this change. A memo discussing the rationale for these incentives ($40 for teachers, $30 for reading coaches and principals) as well as a summary of ED's 8/25/2005 phone conversation with OMB on this topic is enclosed.
